In view of the Appeal Brief filed on 10/04/2005, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED.

In view of appellant's arguments set forth in the Brief, the examiner agrees that the reference of Fleischmann does not disclose the undulating bearing surface when "undulating" is defined as disclosed in the specification and which is supported by the Brief since an "undulating" shaped as disclosed is required to define over the configuration of the bearing surfaces in Fleischmann.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

(1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,

(2) initiate a new appeal by filing a notice of appeal under 37 CFR 41.31 followed by an appeal brief under 37 CFR 41.37. The previously paid notice of appeal fee and appeal brief fee can be applied to the new appeal. If, however, the appeal fees set forth in 37 CFR 41.20 have been increased since they were previously paid, then appellant must pay the difference between the increased fees and the amount previously paid.

A Supervisory Patent Examiner (SPE) has approved of reopening prosecution by signing below:

Judy Swann

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 22 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Thurston (3,438,416) in view of McKinlay (US 5,626,449). Thurston discloses a locking fastener assembly comprising a fastener (12) and a washer (30). The fastener and washer having annular undulating annular bearing surfaces (21, 32) with inclined bearing faces being rotatable relative to one another. The washer having an opposite clamping surface with a body portion (at the bearing surface) and flange. The flange including plural segments which are read as those areas between the slots (36) which separate them. Thurston does not disclose the fastener being a nut. McKinlay also discloses a locking fastener assembly and teaches to equivalence of a nut (14) and a bolt (72). At the time the invention was made, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to substitute a nut for the bolt of Thurston in view of the teaching of McKinlay.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
